Sensory profile

Auditory:

The skate sanctuary is situated between many dance studio spaces, so loud music can be heard playing at times from surrounding studio's and buildings.

The space can be loud and noisy. We use music during the dance classes and many others, although it is usually turned down low when breaking down new moves.

How we can help: Ear defenders are welcome! If you would like to wear ear defenders to have a better experience, please feel free.

We deliver our instructions verbally. If you require support with our verbal instructions please let us know. We are also able to repeat instructions as many times as you need or write instructions down.

Visuals:

The Skate Sanctuary shop is lit using bright ceiling lights and neon signs, during appointments we are happy to have these switched off for you to make your experience more comfortable. You are also very welcome to wear sunglasses if this helps!

We recognise that within the studio, there is a lot to see and lot's of bright colours. This can be overwhelming. Please take your time during classes, we are here to help.

If you need to take a break outside in natural lighting, please remove your skates first for your own safety. You may then rejoin the class when you are ready. Please ask us any questions you have and ask a member of the team for help, we will always do our best to support you.

Smells:

If you are sensitive to smell, please let us know and we will make sure we do not use strong air fresheners or light scented candles before your class.

Please ask us any questions you have either in-person or email us at shop@rollergirlgang.co.uk and we will also do our best to help if we can.
